

Christoph Nahrholdt

Vita

Christoph Nahrholdt (b. 1968) has a degree in business administration and European studies and he joined Metaplan in 2007. After holding executive positions at Bertelsmann, he was a partner in a consulting firm for management development. He is director of the Metaplan Academy and develops in-house programs for executives at all levels. In addition, he consults in the areas of strategy, mission statements, and business development.

Personal interests

Christoph recharges his batteries with a mixture of various family adventures, going on short trips, visiting friends, cycling, and yoga. He enjoys a wide range of musical styles, which let him find just the right beat for every situation. He is a supporter and volunteer for ART at WORK (www.art-at-work.org), an international artists group.
