

Helen Taylor

Our heads are round so our thoughts can change direction.
(Francis Picabia)

Vita

Helen Taylor (b. 1969) is a sociologist and joined Metaplan in 2002. Prior to that, she worked as an expert in modal transport for the European Commission. She consults on strategy development, mission statements, and leadership issues. Her sector focus includes the automobile industry, mechanical engineering, research institutions, and administrative agencies.

Personal interests

As a native of the North Frisian island of Föhr, Helen loves to sail, be it a flatboat on her familiar North Sea, a yawl on the Baltic, or a catamaran on the Atlantic. She lives in Hamburg with her husband and three children - not far from the Elbe River.
