

Post Merger Integration: How to align structures and strategies for a successful merger

The Metaplan
Merger Catalyst
Program

Why Post Merger Integration regularly fails

According to Harvard Business Review, between 70% and 90% of mergers and acquisitions fail.

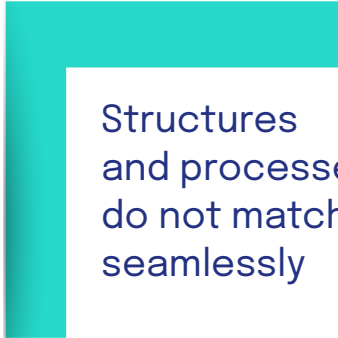

Especially in the first phases of integration typical problems arise all at once:

Cultures do not seem to match

Leadership teams are not aligned

Structures and processes do not match seamlessly

Strategies do not correspond

Metaplan triple-A-approach to successful integration

Analysis

Tools developed in organizational science help to analyze pitfalls of integration

Alignment

Interactive consulting creates alignment in leadership teams

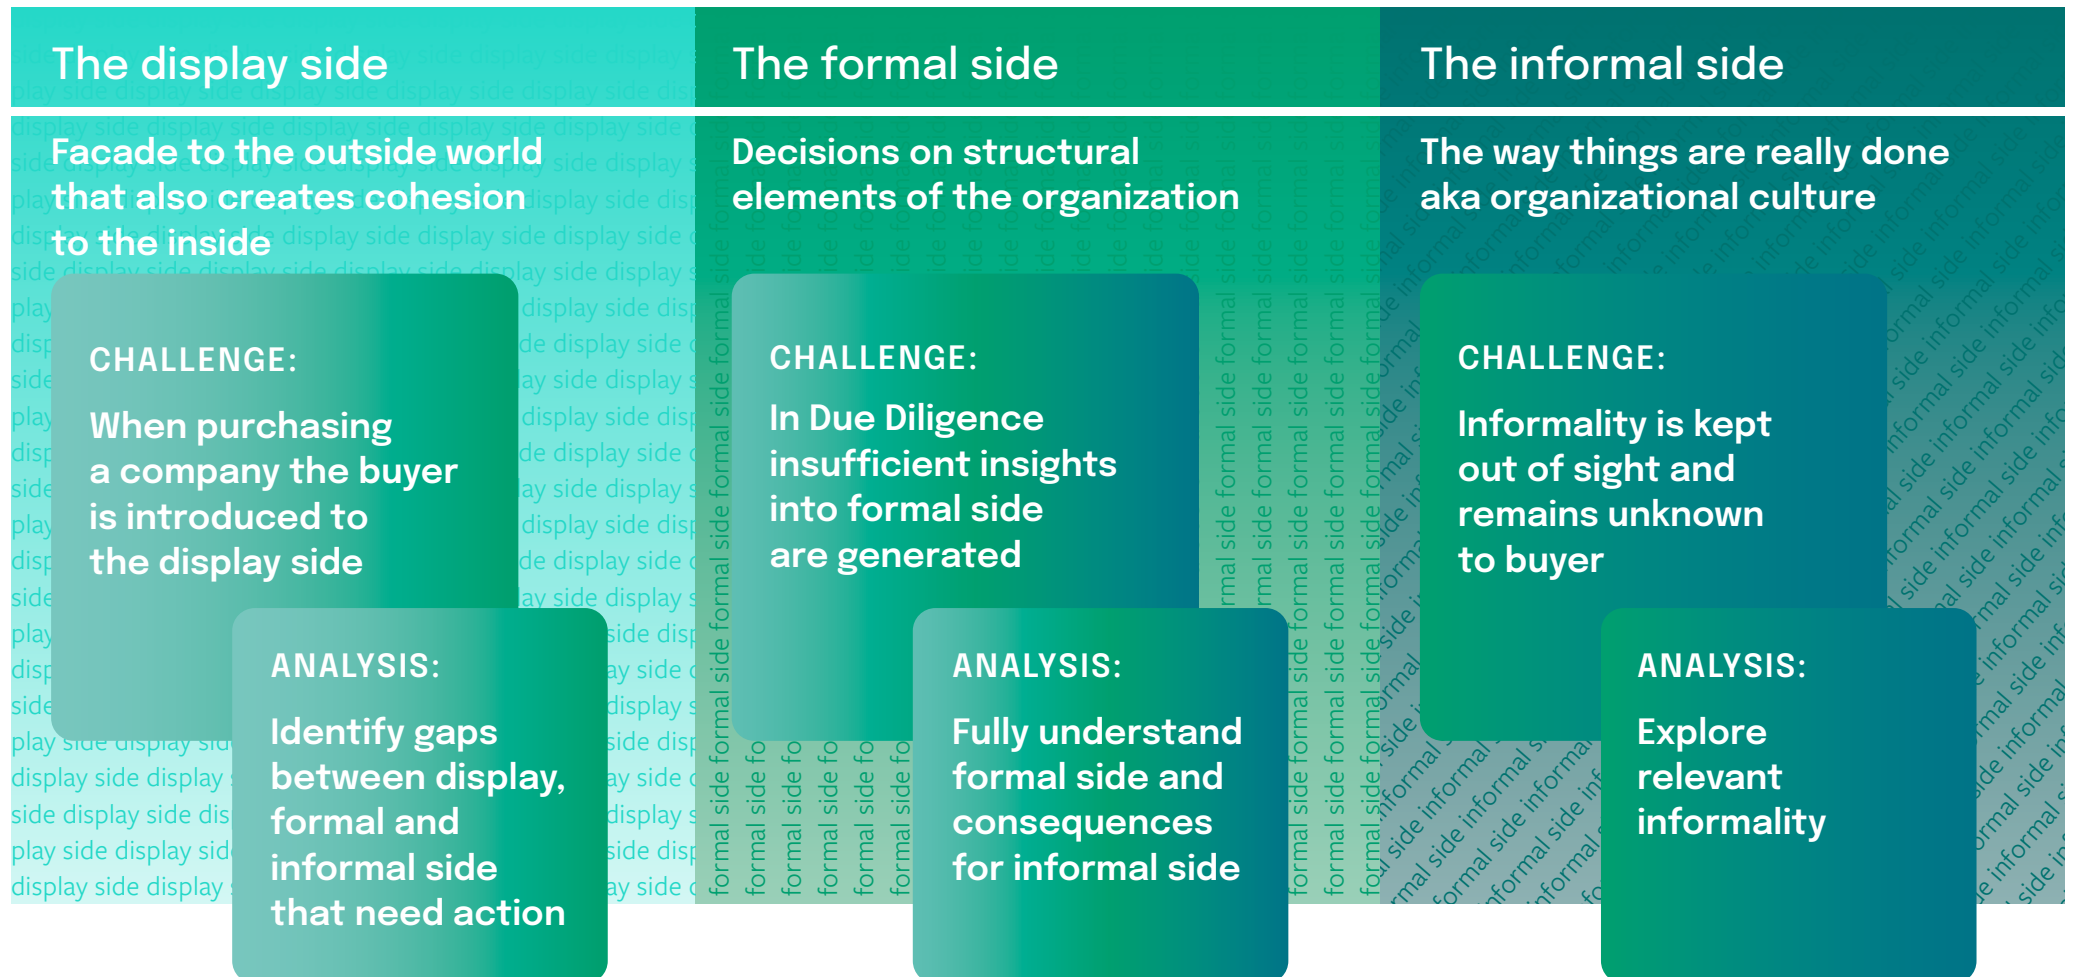

Action

Decide on new structures and strategies, remedies and preventive measures

Shaping a shared culture: Metaplan serves as trusted advisor to both sides – as a PMI catalyst

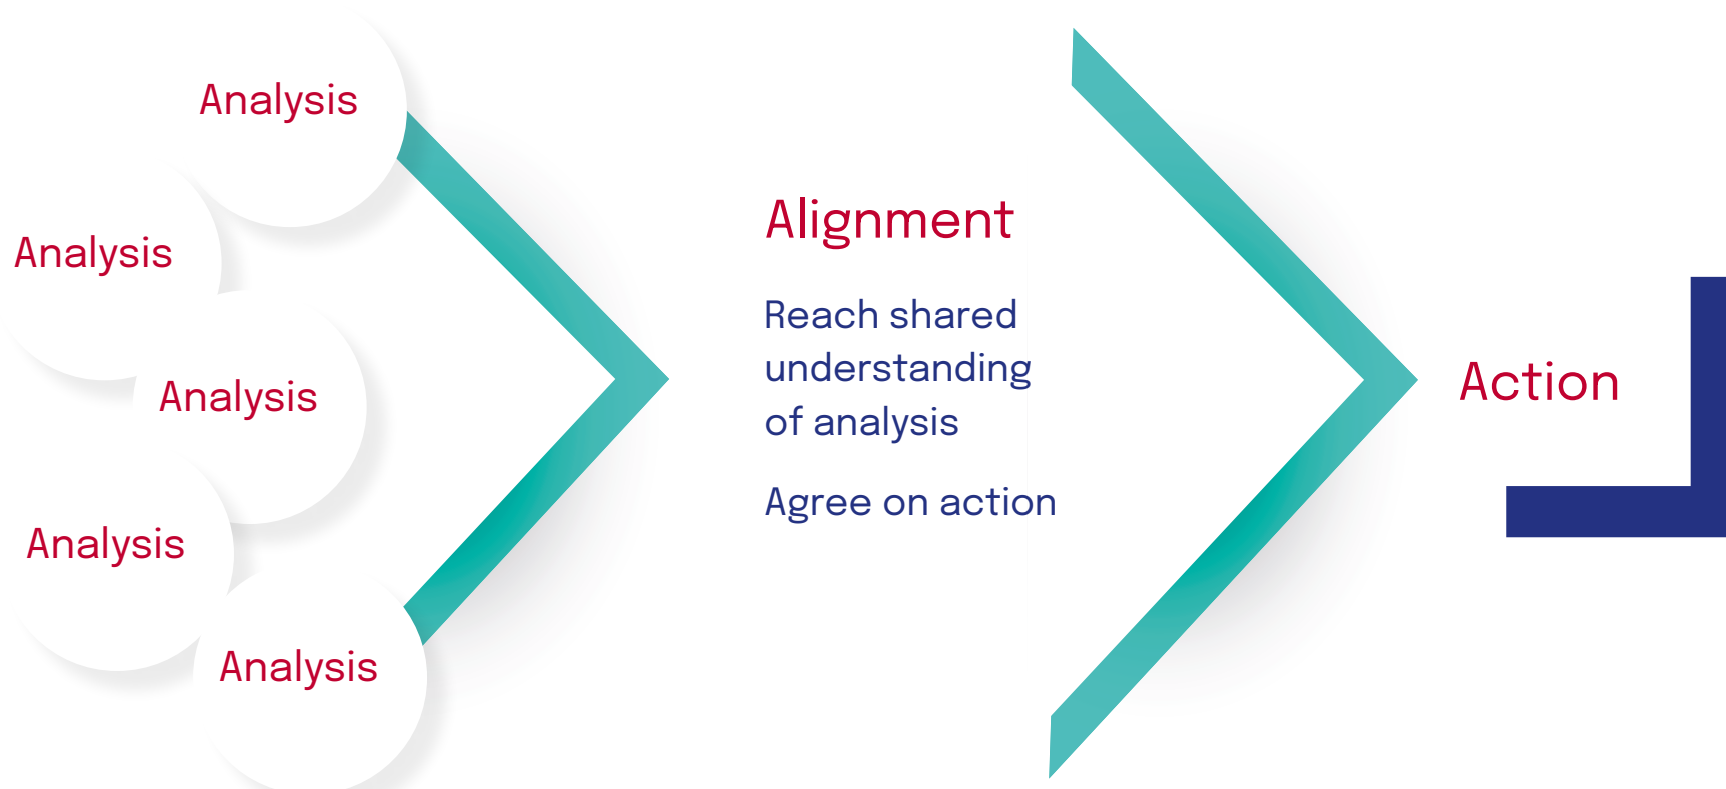

Analysis by differentiating the three sides of the organization to identify typical challenges in Post Merger Integration

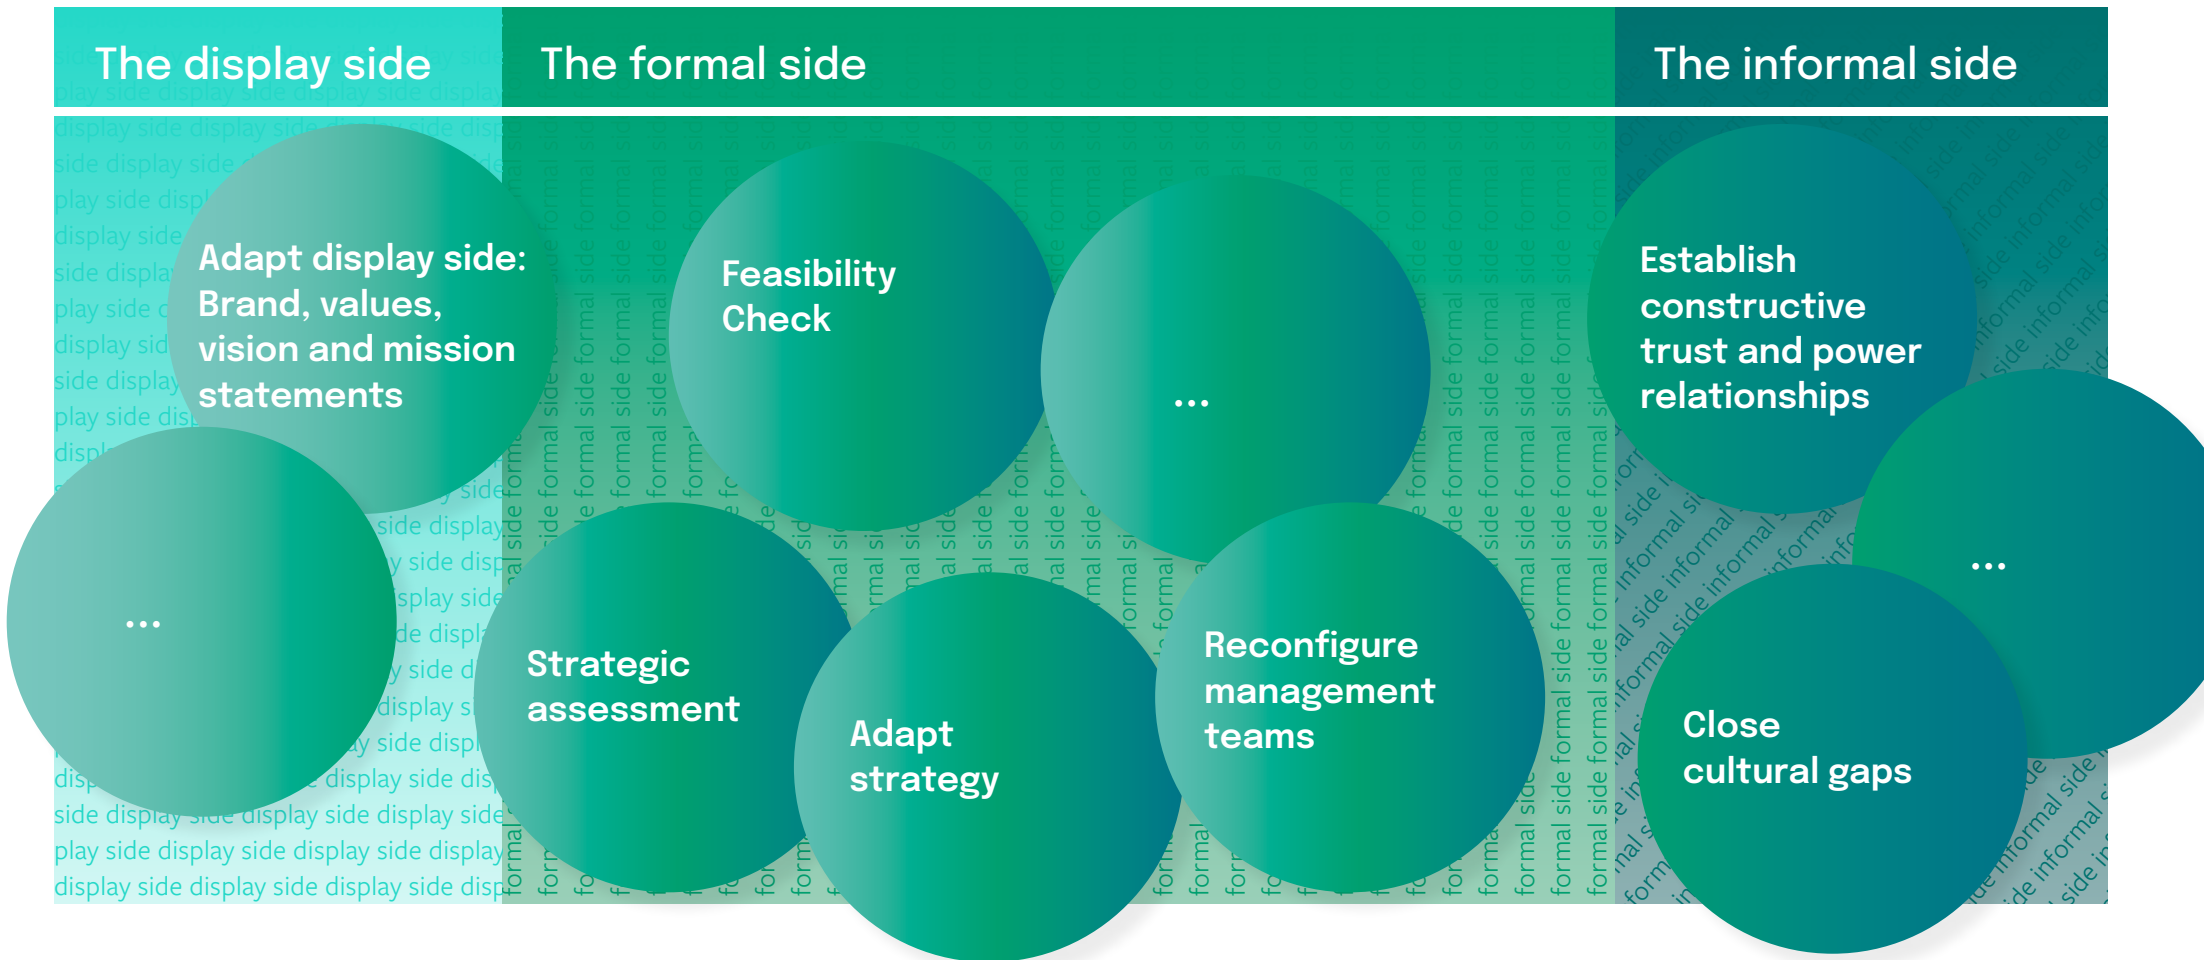

Alignment Shared commitment needs shared understanding between relevant stakeholders

We set up discourses. We arrange interactions and workshops between selected stakeholders to explore potential for shared understanding.

As moderators we connect between different ways of thinking. We serve as catalysts to define common grounds, shared views on the status quo and ways forward.

Action Take steps on all three sides of the organization to address the specific challenges of this Post Merger Integration
